STALIN REPORTS CAPTURE OF ODESSA

PRESIDENT ON VACATION TRIP OF TWO WEEKS

Goes South for Rest at Urging of Personal Physician; Whereabouts Secret.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10 — President Roosevelt has gone on a vacation and rest trip about two weeks, it was announced today at the White House. The time of the President's departure from Washington and the place where he were not disclosed.

The White House statement said:

"The President has left Washington for the south and will be away approximately two weeks unless some unexpected emergency arises which would compel him to return at an earlier date.

"The President was accompanied by Admiral D. Leahy, his chief of staff, Vice Admiral T. McIntire, surgeon general of the Navy and physician to the President; Rear Admiral Wilson Brown, Naval aid; and Major General Edwin M. Watson, military aid and secretary.

"Arrangements for the work that always is carried on between the White House and the President in respect of his whereabouts or movements while he may be away from Washington, he will devote himself entirely to relaxation outdoors in fresh air and sunshine.

"Correspondents for The Associated Press, the United Press Associations and the International News Service regularly assigned to cover the President also have been in Washington. For reasons of security, however, the news reports of these correspondents will not be published until the President has returned to Washington.

The statement was given out by Stephen Early, White House secretary. Early was asked whether the last paragraph meant that the reporters have gone with the President or to the same place the President has gone. He replied the statement speaks for itself.

The President has been urged for several weeks by his physician, Adm. McIntire, to get away from his office and to concentrate on recovering from the lingering effects of a cold and bronchitis.

DARKE CO. FARM FRONT QUIET TODAY

By The Associated Press

GREENVILLE, O., April 10 — The farm front was quiet today on Darke county's farm front.

A group of farmers, opposed to the agricultural adjustment administration program, had insisted that Ohio Fellers, Darke county AAA chairman, quit by Saturday but the day came and passed and Fellers remained on the job.

A policeman was on duty at the AAA office but there was no sign of disturbance.

Charles Mannix, husky 28-year-old president of the Wheat Quota Protective Association of Darke County said, "there won't be any trouble as long as the AAA doesn't try to force anything on us." Mannix is the leader of the group opposed to the AAA.

The office of price administration announced it has instructed rationing boards not to cooperate with the AAA in gasoline rationing if it would lead to [illegible]

W. W. MORRAL

DEATH TAKES W. W. MORRAL

Inventor and Manufacturer of Corn Canning Factory Machinery Stricken.

Special to The Star

MORRAL, April 10 — William W. Morral, 76, widely known inventor and manufacturer, died at 6 p. m. yesterday at his home here, following an illness of two years. With his death a partnership of more than 50 years with his brother, Samuel E. Morral, in the invention and manufacture of corn huskers and cutters used in corn canning factories was broken.

The son of pioneer residents of Marion and Wyandot counties, Mr. Morral spent his entire life in this community and with his brother founded the Morral Bros. machinery manufacturers. Beginning in humble surroundings and suffering many discouragements in their early years, the brothers saw their invention develop into a product used by canning factories throughout the United States and in countries in all parts of the world.

Church, Hospital Gifts

Mr. Morral was a generous donor to several projects in the religious and educational fields. Active in the Methodist church here, he served as superintendent of the Sunday school for 35 years and was a member of the board of trustees for many years. With his wife, Mrs. Della Martin Morral, he made the first substantial gift toward the founding of the Methodist Children's home at Worthington and had served as a trustee of the institution since it was founded in 1911. He also made substantial contributions to the home during the years it has been in operation.

Other beneficiaries include Flower hospital at Toledo and institutions of the Methodist church at Lakeside, and Ohio Northern university.

Honored by University

A trustee of Ohio Northern university for many years, Mr. Morral was honored by the institution in May 1942, when the degree of Doctor of Engineering was conferred upon him in recognition of his contribution to the field of agriculture and his services to Ohio Northern university, the Worthington Children's home and other contributions toward the promotion of Christian education.

He was interested in community affairs and until about one and one-half years ago was actively connected with the business of the manufacturing plant. His business associations included serving as a member of the board of directors of the National City Bank of Marion.

Wyandot Co. Native

Mr. Morral was born April 16, 1868, in Crane township, Wyandot county, to Samuel Morral, a native of Salt Rock township, Marion county, and Margaret Harmon Morral whose birthplace was Wyandot county. Surviving with the widow are two brothers, S. E. Morral of Morral, and M. J. Morral of north of Marion, and a sister, Mrs. O. P. Shoots of north of Marion. Five sisters and two brothers are deceased.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Methodist church here, with the pastor, Rev. Fred Rice officiating, assisted by Dr. B. F. Reading of Toledo who officiated for the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Morral on April 24, 1895. Burial will be made in Grand Prairie cemetery at Brush Ridge. Friends may call at the home after 7 o'clock tonight until the funeral hour.

INDORSES OBSERVANCE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10 — Stating that "the genuinely humanizing forces of life are nurtured in our homes," President Roosevelt has given a warm indorsement to the planned renewal of a National Family Week observance, to be sponsored by the nation's churches May 7-14.

IMPHAL PLAIN UNDER VIRTUAL SEIGE BY JAPS

Enemy Atttempts To Outflank Base and Advances Despite Losses.

By The Associated Press

Allied headquarters today conceded the Japanese drive into India has put the Imphal plain under virtual siege and has reached the outskirts of Kohima, 35 jungle miles from the all-important Bengal-Assam supply route that feeds allied forces in China and northern Burma.

The Japanese besiegers have sent small parties west of Bishenpur, 18½ miles southwest of Imphal on the Tiddim road, where they have been in contact with allied forces and suffered casualties, the southeast Asia command announced today.

This was the first time that Japanese had been reported west of the Tiddim-Imphal road (it indicated a Japanese effort to sweep around the Imphal defenses from the southwest).

British forces stoutly defending Kohima, northern Imphal plain strong point, have wiped out Japanese groups which penetrated the town's tight ring of defenses, killing at least 50 and taking others prisoners, the communique said.

Not Stopped by Losses

Undeterred by losses, the Nipponese invaders continued their pressure in the whole Kohima area. Along the road from Tiddim to the south of Imphal the Japanese increased their pressure and were in contact with allied defenders.

Fighting also was reported in the foothills north of the plain where further losses were inflicted on the enemy.

Kohima is a key defense point 35 miles southeast of the Bengal-Assam railroad which supplies American and Chinese forces fighting in north Burma under Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell. It is 30 miles inside India and 60 miles north of Imphal, the allies' major base in northeast India. Fifteen miles of the Kohima-Imphal road has been blocked by Japanese infiltration parties.

The southeast Asia command declared Sunday that a "small initial penetration" of Kohima's outskirts had been repulsed by the strong allied garrison. Thirty-five miles northwest is Dimapur on the American-operated rail line supplying Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's mixed forces in China.

Japs Claim Capture

(The Japanese have claimed capture of Kohima.)

The Japanese were bringing steady pressure to win the Imphal plain, rich in food, before the monsoon next month halts most military activities, but allied troops were said to have a firm hold at the moment at the edge of the plain.

The enemy has come within 10 miles of Imphal from the northeast, on the road from Ukhrul.

(A BBC broadcast by CBS said allied forces had evacuated Tamu, about 50 miles below Imphal. Another London broadcast also recorded by CBS, said the British had made another airborne landing behind Japanese lines due east of Imphal, between the Irrawaddy and Chindwin rivers, to support a column already in that area.)

GIRAUD STICKS TO ARMY POST

General's Firm Stand Confronts DeGaulle with Challenge to Authority.

By The Associated Press

ALGIERS, April 10 — Gen Charles De Gaulle was confronted with a direct challenge to his authority as president of the French committee of national liberation today as Gen. Henri Giraud stood firm on his refusal to accept dismissal as commander-in-chief of the French armed forces.

Giraud's stand apparently left the next move in the contest between the two generals squarely up to De Gaulle, but there was no indication of the latter's probable course of action. The situation was further confused by the assertion of some of Giraud's followers that several members of the liberation committee had threatened to resign in an expression of sympathy with him.

The Giraudists declared that among these committee members were Navy Commissioner Louis Jacquinot and Air Commissioner Fernand Grenier who, they said, had not signed the decree which yesterday abolished Giraud's post as commander and at the same time named him "inspector-general" of the armed forces. A committee spokesman, however, said all the committeemen had signed.

The 65-year-old Giraud, who escaped from France in 1941 to take over leadership of French armed forces, sent a sharp formal letter to De Gaulle declaring the action violated French republican law as well as French National Committee ordnances determining a separation of civil and military powers and organization of a high command.

"I am not resigning," Giraud said. "I accept neither the principle of suppression of the post of commander-in-chief of the French armed forces in the middle of war, nor the honorary post which you have designed for me."

Giraud also took issue with De Gaulle's statement that the post of commander-in-chief was superfluous because a Frenchman would not get a large allied command. He said, "There is no proof that another theater of operations won't be opened where a Frenchman will have the honor of command. I believe myself still capable of exercising this command."

KNUDSEN NOT WORRYING

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 10—William S. Knudsen, head of the office of production management, has his own formula for not worrying about the post-war era. "I always thought you shouldn't sell the hide until after you shot the bear," he said today when asked about post-war plans.

GREAT FORCE OF U. S. PLANES SMASH NAZIS

1,000 to 1,500 Bombers and Fighters Hammer Germans Third Successive Day.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 10—U. S. air task forces totaling 1,000 to 1,500 bombers and fighters smashed at plane factories and airfields in Belgium and France today in the third straight day of fierce bleeder blows against Nazi air power.

Drawing the enemy's coastal fighter defenses into action for the first time in weeks, Fortresses and Liberators bombed military objectives in the Pas-De-Calais area, the aircraft repair depot at Evere and Vilvorde and the airfield at Melsbroek near Brussels, Belgium, the aircraft factory at Bourges, 115 miles south of Paris, and the airfield at Orleans, 60 miles south of Paris.

Three heavy bombers and four fighters were lost in the multiple assault, and seven of the enemy's planes were shot down in combat, a communique announced, in addition to about 40 which air base reports said were destroyed on the ground.

The Americans struck after heavy RAF night raids on rail targets at Lille and in the southern outskirts at Paris, in following up their deep Sunday plunge against aircraft factories in Poland, East Prussia, and northeast Germany. Saturday they bombed Brunswick airplane plants and airdromes near Frankfort, wrecking 148 Nazi planes in battle.

The forces were described as "strong"—indicating between 500 and 750 bombers escorted by as many Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings.

Leave as RAF Returns

The daylight fleet took off soon after the RAF heavy bombers returned from raiding Villeneuve-St. Georges, a junction on the main rail lines from southern and western France just 12 miles south of the center of Paris, and Lille, important junction on northern French rail lines.

Mosquito bombers hit Mannheim and other unspecified objectives, and extensive mine-laying operations were carried out at long range, all at a night cost of 11 planes, the air ministry said. It

NEW ZELANDERS OPEN NEW DRIVE

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, April 10—New Zealand troops have inflicted casualties on the Germans in sudden attacks against two strongpoints at Sant-Angelo, three miles south of Cassino, headquarters announced today, while allied troops in ruined Cassino itself were subjected to renewed violent mortaring and shelling.

The New Zealanders partially destroyed one of the enemy positions.

The shelling of Cassino followed days of comparative quiet in the devastated town. The increase in German activity also included dropping of propaganda leaflets three miles north of the town and heavy shelling in the upper Rapido valley northeast of Sant-Elia.

The Germans, meanwhile, seemed to be on the move in the lower Garigliano sector of the main front. A great deal of transport movement was observed and in the Ausente valley 21 tanks of self-propelled guns were seen about 2½ miles northeast of Minturno.

The Germans, who can control the volume of the Garigliano river's flow by manipulating the dam flood gates on the Liri river, have permitted the Garigliano to drop five feet.

On the beachhead below Rome, German artillery fire slackened somewhat, but their patrols were exceedingly active and were driven off all around the beachhead perimeter.

Poor weather reduced allied air force activity, but fighter-bombers attacked rail communications in the Rome area and shipping off the Yugoslav coast.

Absentee Ballot Time Starts Here; Service Vote a Problem

Marion county election officials today opened their doors to applications for absent voters' ballots, a routine chore which this year will be swollen to headache proportions by the votes of men and women in military service.

Because of confusion and controversy, some details about handling the ballots are still uncertain. Ohio law provides that an absentee voter must ask for a ballot if he or she wants one, and if this law is not changed, it is expected that not more than a few hundred ballots will be requested in the May 9 primary.

But if the state legislature, at a special session some time this month, decides to have a ballot sent to every man and woman in military service, the county elections board will have the formidable job of sending out more than 4,000 absent voters' ballots, each by registered mail.

No Local Cost

One financial worry of the elections board was removed this morning when Postmaster Homer D. Cole notified the board he had been advised by postal authorities that ballots will be sent postage-free to men and women in service. A savings to the election board of at least $1,000 and possibly more was seen in this order.

The Marion county board has already received about 100 applications for ballots from men and women in military service. Ninety-seven of these had been sent to the secretary of state by men and women in service, and he relayed them to the county board today. The board had received three or four others direct, one of them from a man overseas.

Deadline Change Likely

As the law now stands, absentee ballots must be voted and returned to the elections boards by the Friday noon before the May 9 primary. It is expected the state will shift this deadline to noon on election day.

One of the possibilities in connection with the arrangements for voting is that if the men and women in service should receive ballots automatically and most of them would mark the ballots and return them, the military vote might equal the civilian vote cast at the primary.

DEADLINE TONIGHT FOR REGISTRATION

Marion residents who are not properly registered have until 9 o'clock tonight to qualify themselves to vote in the May 9 primary. Persons who have not voted in the last two years, those who have become 21 since the last election and those whose names have been changed by marriage or divorce must register to be eligible to vote. Those who have moved must transfer their registrations.

FREE DISCUSSION URGED BY BRICKER

By The Associated Press

SPOKANE, Wash., April 10—Gov. Bricker of Ohio, commenting briefly on Secretary of State Hull's foreign policy speech, said today that discussion of all the issues in international affairs "would not be weakening to the government but strengthening to the government."

Explaining at a press conference that he had not had time to read the speech fully because of the full schedule which has occupied him since last night, he noted that Hull urged that Bricker termed "harmony at home."

"I believe in building strength in self government by exercising self government," said Ohio's chief executive, a prominent contender for the Republican nomination for president. "I believe in a free and open discussion of all issues."

Earlier in a breakfast address he had declared that the "great expanded plant" of the federal government in war-time must be

AMERICAN SOLDIERS MARK EASTER DAY

By The Associated Press

Easter was celebrated yesterday on all those fronts manned by American doughboys. It was celebrated in mud and muck and in some spots even in blood, but so sincere was the spirit of the men that in one instance Germans in a front line sector in Italy were invited to join the service.

Perhaps the Easter services most remindful of home to the GI Joes and Janes across the seas were the ones held in London's Hyde park, where American soldiers, sailors and WACS attended a sunrise service.

At Garigliano, on the Italian front, allied and German troops less than 400 yards apart joined in an Easter program. Services were broadcast to the Germans, who held their fire as the sermon was read in English and German.

Easter came to the Anzio beachhead, too, although both allied and German batteries fired as usual.

Communion wine and wafers and prayer books were dropped to American air commandos far behind enemy lines in the jungles of Burma, and American soldiers in Palestine walked to Golgotha and the holy sepulchre.

At Guadalcanal, near the mouth of the Tenaru river where American Marines first landed to begin the rolling southwest Pacific land offensive, soldiers stood in mud and bowed their heads in prayer during sunrise services. Scattered among them were natives in loin cloths.

The Tokyo radio reported Easter services had been held for Americans at the San Tomas internment camp at Manila.

NAZIS FLEE CITY TAKEN IN FIRST YEAR OF WAR

Germans Pull Out After Their Defense Is Outflanked by Russians.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 10 — Marshal Joseph Stalin today announced, in an order of the day, the capture of Odessa, Russia's greatest Black sea port.

Capture of the once-gay port, ruined in a two-month siege in the first year of the war by the Germans and by 903 days of rigid occupation, was announced after the German high command had acknowledged its evacuation in one of Adolf Hitler's most humiliating defeats.

Stalin said the capture of the city, to which many had expected the Germans would cling stubbornly as a thorn in the side of the Red army's Balkan advance, had cleared away a major obstacle to "the central regions of Romania."

Putting the best possible light on a defeat which seemed to signal the German abandonment of the last mile of southern Russian territory and the opening of a crucial new Nazi stand in the Galati gap of Romania between the Danube and Carpathians, the Germans said they stole away at night after blowing up all military installations and removing all ships and vehicle transport — a statement which seemed to indicate they had fled by sea in part.

Stalin said the city had been taken out by outflanking maneuvers by tanks, infantry and cavalry and frontal assault which caved in German defenses and had threatened to cut off the Nazi garrison.

Berlin told of a broad new Russian offensive in the Crimea which apparently was aimed at cleaning the enemy out of its one remaining important Black sea outpost. The Germans said the Russians were smashing at their lines at Sivash and Perekop on the northern side of the isthmus. Russian war bulletins were silent on any new operations in this sector.

Moscow declared one Red army had smashed to a railway station three miles north of Odessa yesterday and that another, sweeping 11 miles southwest of the port, had seized Marfental, only five miles from the Odessa-Ovidiopol railway, the only retreat road for the thousands of Nazis and Romanians defending the city.

Black Ferry Route

The Russians were only eight miles from Ovidiopol itself, a bottleneck ferry terminus on this railway, and their guns commanded both the rail stretch and vulnerable ferry point.

Liberation of the strategic city, taken by the Germans at heavy cost in October, 1941, only four months after they launched the invasion of Russia, came as other Soviet forces invading Romania over-ran 200 more villages, and virtually isolated the railhead of Izal.

Recent estimates placed the number of Germans and Romanians in Odessa at 100,000 to 200,000.

The German broadcast declared installations were destroyed last week, and that "all our war material was taken with us."

It declared also that Germans trapped above Razdelnaya, Russian-held rail town 45 miles north-

Red Cross Total Above $52,000

New voluntary donations over the week-end brought the Marion Red Cross war fund up to $52,011.29, leaving $3,938.71 yet to be raised to reach the quota, Chairman J. D. Torrance reported today.

A small squad of volunteer workers headed by Chris Turoff was to swing into action this afternoon in an effort to get additional donations from business places and "give again" donations from some of the larger individual donors.

The drive organization is centering its efforts to reach the goal on an appeal to Marion county residents who have already given to "give again" by mailing a gift to the Red Cross Headquarters, Marion, O.

BRICKER DESIGNATES DAY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 10—Gov. Bricker today designated May 21 as "I Am an American" day in Ohio in celebration of the citizenship status of young Americans who have become 21 years of age, and of foreign born who have become naturalized. He also designated May 7-14 as national music week and April 10-15 as national Negro health week.

Easter Worshippers Fill Churches and Style Parade Takes Place Despite Rain

By MARTHA MOORE

Easter services yesterday drew congregations that filled Marion churches in spite of rainy weather. Worshippers dropped their wartime cares for a time to rejoice in the promise of resurrection and hope retold in sermons and songs throughout the city.

Hundreds of churchgoers made their way to morning services through intermittent rainfall, and feminine members gingerly avoiding black puddles which were doing their best to spot the ladies' best rayons and zealously guarded nylons.

Raincoats and umbrellas added colorful notes to the Easter parade of the afternoon when a few Marionites refused to be daunted by the showers which came off and on during the day.

Bright shades of red, blue, green, and especially orchid, outranked their more somber pastel companions, in the gaily-colored dresses and suits. Suits were the thing this year but the severely man-tailored ones were noticeable by their absence. The trend seemed to run to the more feminine models. Upon milady's head were bright creations of matching or contrasting shades. The popular half hat of the season was much in evidence.

As to individual costumes, one eye-catcher was worn by a small miss of about two years who was clad in a brown check coat and little Dutch cap, identical in style and color with her mother's suit and hat. One of the most popular combinations was gold and orchid and the orchid suit of my choice was a tailored number topped with a gold reefer coat with matching flowered hat. The wearer's beaming smile as she walked down the street with her soldier escort completed a lovely Easter picture.

Flowers may have been scarce this year, due to lack of greenhouse workers but there was no sign of the scarcity in the profusion of corsages adorning the shoulders of the feminine population. Everything from daffodils to orchids were seen but gardenias and roses still occupied their places as favorites.

Army khaki and Navy blues were much in evidence as service men home on leave added their contributions to the parade. Wives and mothers of those not home breathed a silent prayer that next Easter might see the trim grays, blues, and tans that will come out of the mothballs when the wearers return.

All Motorists Reported Safe in Snow Slide

By The Associated Press

GEORGETOWN, Colo., April 10 Reports from the shelter house at the summit of Bernoud pass today indicated all persons trapped when at least three cars were buried by a snowslide last night had been rescued. They were being taken to the shelter house to wait until snowplows clear the road. Reports were that none was injured seriously.

The avalanche occurred during one of the worst snow storms in years. Three feet of snow had fallen here—the foot of the pass.

Sheriff Harold Brumbaugh of Clear Creek county said the slide pushed one car down the mountain side.

KATE SMITH writes about saving used fats!

EVERY WOMAN wants to save as much used cooking fat for battlefield medicines and munitions as possible. But there are ways we may be overlooking. Are you missing out on any of these?

THERE'S THE DARK, smelly fat you've used to fry fish or onions ...maybe you've thought it wasn't fit to save, but it is! Every drop will yield crystal-clear material essential to making medicines and munitions. And there's the fat you trim from meats...the scraps folks leave on their plates...have you thought to save those? Yes, it's only a little...but only a tablespoonful is needed to compound enough vaccine to protect 73 men!

SO COME ON, everybody! Scrape those pans! Save those trimmings and scraps. Keep the fat can (any tin can will do) right on the back of the stove where it's handy. When the can is full, rush it to your butcher and get 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound.

Charlotte Greenwood To Replace Bob Hope Show

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—The seasonal change in program makeup in preparation for spring and summer broadcasting has been productive of more developments.

When Bob Hope goes off for his regular 13-week vacation June 6, his Tuesday night series on NBC will be turned over to comedienne Charlotte Greenwood, who has done comparatively little broadcasting. She will be in a comedy script titled "Miss Charlotte."

The coming Sunday is to have ready a couple new ones. The opera auditions of the Stu, having ended another season, will be replaced by World of Song, in which previous audition winners will be guests. MBS is starting a quiz from Miami Beach, Fla., in which teams of Army air force veterans will be contestants. It will be 3 p. m.

Instead of the usual District Attorney broadcast Wednesday night at 9:30 NBC is to carry a talk by James F. Byrnes, director of the office of war mobilization, on "Transition from War to Peace."

FEW OHIOANS AFFECTED

By The Associated Press

State officials said most Ohio registrants in the 18 to 26-year-old group already have been inducted unless engaged in essential war work.

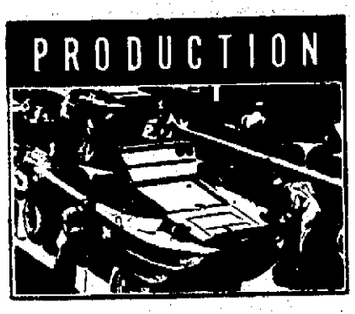
GOOD NEWS FROM THE PRODUCTION FRONT

A REPORT TO THE NATION

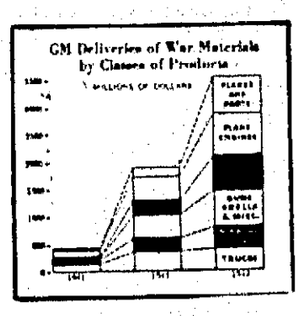
on General Motors 1943 War Activities

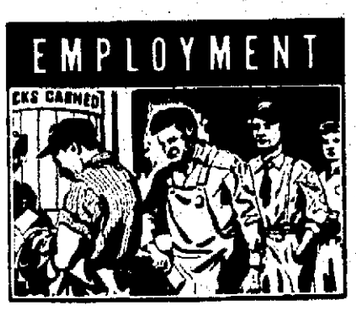
★ Physical volume of war materials produced was more than double that of 1942.
★ Total value of 1943 war production more than 3 billion, 500 million dollars.
★ Average total employment 448,848, an all-time high.
★ Total payrolls more than 1 billion, 300 million dollars—up 54%.
★ Materials and services purchased from others approximately 1 billion, 900 million dollars—up 88%.
★ Net income after taxes from manufacturing operations—3⅜ cents per dollar of sales.



GENERAL MOTORS 1943 deliveries of war material rose to a total value of more than 3½ billion dollars, or about 87% more than in 1942. The increase in physical volume was even greater, since unit prices were reduced during the year. Deliveries of service parts and other authorized civilian material amounted to $250,000,000, a decrease of about 30% from 1942.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, G.M. deliveries of war products were at a rate of two million dollars' worth a day. By the end of 1943 the daily rate was above twelve million dollars. The 2,300 separate items placed in production ranged from small and delicate parts to airplane engines, complete airplanes, tanks, and powerful Diesel engines for submarines and landing craft.

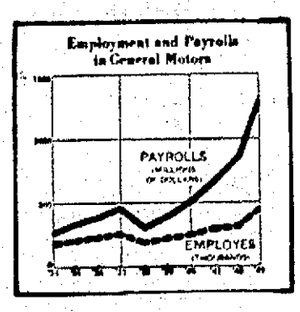




AVERAGE EMPLOYMENT in General Motors in 1943 was 448,848, an all-time high. The figure stood at 503,749 in December. In 1942, the yearly average was 314,144, and the December figure was 391,975. Thus the increase in yearly average was 43%. At the same time, payrolls rose 54%, and reached a total of about 1½ billion dollars.

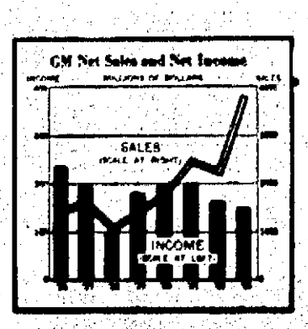
More than 200,000 new G.M. employes were trained for war work in 1943. Enrollment in courses for supervisors and executives totaled 21,500.

The percentage of working time lost because of accidents was less in 1943 than ever before.



TOTAL NET INCOME after taxes in 1943 from war output and other sources was $149,780,088, compared to $163,651,588 in 1942 and $201,652,508 in 1941. Net income after taxes from manufacturing in 1943 was only 3⅜ cents per dollar of total net sales.

95% of all war material delivered to the end of 1943 was manufactured under fixed-price contracts. General Motors early adopted the policy of reducing prices to the government as lower costs were achieved through greater experience. The government benefited many millions of dollars by these reductions in 1943. Taxes in 1943 totaled $308,068,000, of which federal taxes were $254,783,000; social security and unemployment insurance taxes, $39,263,000, and state and local taxes, $14,022,000. Common stock dividends were $2 per share in 1943. They were also $2 in 1942, $3.75 in 1941 and 1940, $3.50 in 1939.



The year 1943 was one of great effort and sound achievement in General Motors. The job is not yet done. All are determined to contribute to the utmost toward final victory. When this is accomplished, there will be the task of preparing for the requirements of peace. But until that time "Victory is Our Business!"

IN 1943 GENERAL MOTORS FACTORY EMPLOYES submitted 123,000 written suggestions for improving production or working conditions. 25,400 ideas were accepted. Cash value of war bond and stamp awards for same, $955,000.

NEARLY 86,000 G.M. MEN AND WOMEN HAVE ENTERED THE ARMED FORCES

By the end of 1943 more than 10,000 veterans had been given employment by G. M. Nearly half of these were employes who had been on military leave of absence; the remainder had never before worked for G. M.

EPWORTH METHODIST CHURCH was the scene of the marriage of Miss Gloria Rosenberger, daughter of H. B. Rosenberger of 355 West Church street, to Robert J. Case, Easter Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. S. M. Ingmire before an altar decorated with Easter lilies, palms and lighted candelabra. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal gown was of slipper satin with a fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The neck was trimmed with lace, accented with pearls. The skirt ended in a long train also trimmed with lace. The lace trimmed veil was caught to the head with a tiara of pearls with orange blossoms at either end of the tiara. The bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations tied with white streamers.

MRS. ROBERT J. CASE

Miss Joanne Rosenberger was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink taffeta floor length dress with a matching veil and carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations. Sandra Lou Spears, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and her dress and veil were of yellow taffeta. Both she and Miss Rosenberger wore gold crosses, the bride's gifts to her attendants. Serving Mr. Case as best man was Russell A. Dripps and the ushers were Claire Keller of Prospect and Charles Blackburn of Springfield.

Mrs. Rosenberger, stepmother of the bride, wore a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother also wore navy blue with pale pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Preceding the ceremony, a half hour organ recital was played by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence. Her selections were "At Dawning," "Indian Love Call," "Because," "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Oh Perfect Love," "Capriccio," "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go," "Love Dream" No. 3, and the traditional wedding marches. Miss Kathryn Andrews sang "I Love You Truly."

The new Mrs. Case is a graduate of Harding High school and attended Tiffin university, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Phi sorority and Delta Sigma Kappa fraternity. Mr. Case is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Case of 735 East Church street. He is a graduate of Doane college, Crete, Neb., where he was affiliated with Omicron Delta fraternity. He served with the armed forces as a pilot in the Army Air Forces and recently received an honorable medical discharge. Both are employed at the Army Air Force Depot here.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip to Indiana, the bride wore an ice blue wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of white roses. Upon their return they will make their home at 816½ Mt. Vernon avenue.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and at a reception at the Manor House which followed the ceremony were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spears and daughter Sandra, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Rosenberger and son John of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sink and daughter Arlene of Tiffin; Mr. and Mrs. H. Couple Exchange Vows at Home in Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, April 10—Simplicity marked the home wedding of two Galion young people, Easter Sunday, when Carol Jean Meuser, daughter of Mrs. Aurelia Meuser, and Paul Flick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Flick, exchanged vows.

The single ring service was read by Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of First Reformed church. Only the immediate families were present.

The bride was attended by Miss Doris Lesh of Palisades Park, N. J., a student at Ohio Wesleyan university who last year was a schoolmate of the bride. Horace Braden of Mt. Gilead was best man for Mr. Flick.

A family dinner was held at the home following the ceremony.

The couple will make their home south of Galion on the County Line road when they return from a wedding trip of several days.

Illinois Primary Tests MacArthur Sentiment

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 10—National interest in the Illinois primary election tomorrow will center chiefly on its test of "draft MacArthur" sentiment in the midwest.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur won three of the 24 delegates elected in Wisconsin's primary last Tuesday.

MacArthur's name was entered in Illinois without his authorization. He is pitted against Riley Bender, Chicago real estate man and political neophyte.

Results of the preference vote are not binding on the 50 delegates the Republicans will elect and the nine others to be chosen at a party convention April 28. Six of the 80 men and women entered in the district contests have expressed in advance a preference for Thomas E. Dewey, three for Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, two for MacArthur and one each for Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune which is backing MacArthur, and Henry J. Kaiser. The other 66 are undeclared or avowedly open minded.

SWEENEY OPENS CAMPAIGN

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—In the opening address of his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, former congressman Martin L. Sweeney said he favored an immediate overhauling of the state's liquor control system and repeal of the sales tax on food, clothing and medicines with eventual complete abolition of the tax. Speaking over radio station WGAR last night, Sweeney predicted "there will be sinister efforts made under cover to discredit my public record in behalf of social justice and America first."

Hull Asks Home Front Unity On American Foreign Policy

Secretary Declares Another War in 25 Years Depends on Decisions To Be Made Soon.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10—A broadcast explanation of American foreign policy coupled with a plea for home front unity on international issues today launched Secretary of State Hull on a planned campaign to keep the principles of the nation's foreign policy out of election year controversies.

"We are moving closer and closer to the hour of decision" in which the United Nations will determine whether the world will be ravaged by war again in 25 years, Hull said, and disunity in this country can render it ineffective in carrying out its responsibility.

The key to Hull's plans for keeping foreign policy decisions out of politics apparently lies in his announced intention to work with a bipartisan committee of congress in shaping those plans in the first place. He announced last night in his unprecedently detailed summation of foreign policy developments that he had requested Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee to designate the bipartisan group to work with him on planning post-war world organization, and said similar arrangements would be made with the house.

Sets Up Limits

Beyond this Hull may be expected to try to keep projected foreign policy operations within the limits which he feels reasonably sure the leaders of both major political parties and the people generally will support. He told his radio audience a plan of organization is "worse than useless" unless it has full support both in this country and in the other nations which must subscribe to it if it is to be made effective.

Hull discussed a dozen aspects of present foreign policy operations in obvious response to those critics who have claimed either that the state department's ways were obscure and secretive or that the department and the administration lacked any basic principles.

The issues he discussed fell into two classes: immediate problems leading to victory and future problems of the armistice and post-war organizations. The principal immediate problems were:

France—Hull said the United States would not recognize the French committee of national liberation as the government of France because it "is, of course, not the government of France." On the other hand he fully expects that the committee will govern liberated areas of France under the supervision of the allied invasion chief, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Italy—The United States is hopeful that there may be early reorganization of the Italian government to include representatives of the so-called six anti-Fascist political parties because the present conferences of those parties in Italy hold a "promise of success." No earlier reorganization was possible, Hull said, because military leaders there felt it would not be to the advantage of the military situation to impose reorganization from the top.

Neutrals—Hull laid down the principle that "we no longer can acquiesce in these nations' drawing upon the resources of the allied world when they at the same time contribute to the death of troops whose sacrifices contributes to their salvation as well as ours." Because United Nations strength now assures Germany's defeat, Hull said, neutrals no longer can argue that they must compromise with Germany in order to save themselves. He named no specific countries but his remarks were interpreted to apply alike to Sweden, Ireland, Spain and Portugal, and Turkey.

War Progress — Hull declared "the allied strength" now has grown to the point where we are on the verge of great events."

Obviously having in mind the invasion of western Europe he said he could not discuss what these events were. Insofar as allied diplomacy for the European war is concerned, he said, its immediate objective is the organization of stable Europe built around progressive democratic governments set up by the people on their own free choice.

Turning to future problems Hull emphasized that nothing could be accomplished unless the British commonwealth, the Soviet Union, China, and the United States "are harmonized and unless they agree and act together."

"This is the solid framework upon which all future policy and international organization must be built."

As for America's part, Hull declared that "after two years of intensive study the basis upon which our policy must be founded is soundly established; the direction is clear; and the general methods of accomplishment are emerging."

Meanwhile, Hull reported that the European advisory commission is at work in London "upon the treatment of Germany" once the Nazis are defeated. He reiterated the common determination of United Nations leaders that there would be no stopping of the war short to complete defeat.

"There can be no compromise with Fascism and Nazilism," he said. "It must go everywhere. Its leaders, its institutions, the power which supports it must go. They can expect no negotiated peace, no compromise, no opportunity to return."

Steel Deliveries Show Signs of Improvement

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—Deliveries on plate shipments "average about six months but there is a feeling that by August considerably better promise can be given," Steel predicted today.

The magazine attributed this to the ease in demand for shipyards, the lack of new ship programs as well as an expected new platemaking capacity by midyear.

"With plate and sheet bookings covering production from six to nine months and bar requirements increasing, carrying delivery promises into June, the steel market shows few signs of easing."

Steel works operations last week edged up ½-point to 99½ per cent of estimated capacity exactly the same as the corresponding period last year.

Allied Shipping Losses Show Increase in March

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 10 — President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill report merchant shipping losses in March were "a little higher" than in February but that the anti-submarine war continues to be successful.

Although the attacks by German submersibles against the northern supply lines to Russia were stalled by the allies, the undersea warfare spread from the Barents sea, on the approach to Murmansk, to the Indian ocean on the south.

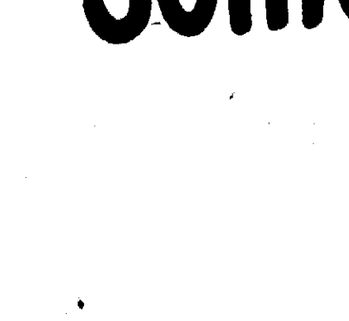
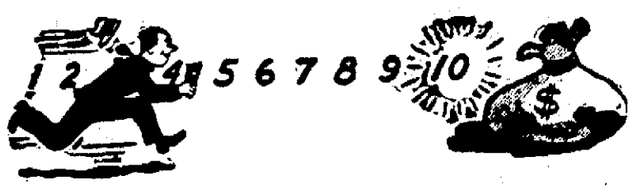
Some ABC stuff about E



is a very important letter in this war.

It's the name of the War Bonds you buy—"War Savings Bond Series E."

As you know, a Series E Bond will work for you for ten full years, piling up interest all that time, till finally you'll get four dollars back for every three you put up. Pretty nice.



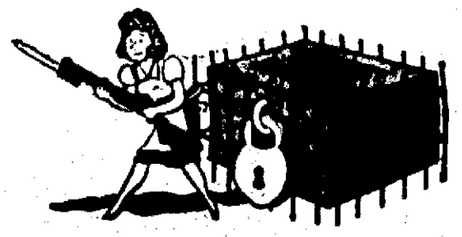
The first job of the money you put into "E" is, of course, to help finance the war. But it also gives you a wonderful way to save money.

And when the war is over, that money you now put away can do another job, can help America swing over from war to peace.

There'll come a day when you'll bless these Bonds—when they may help you over a tough spot.

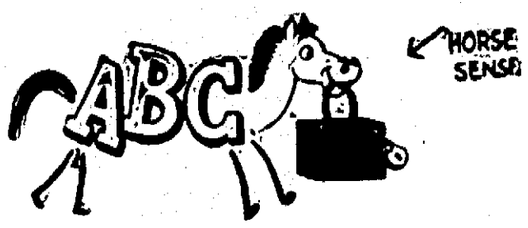
That's why you should make up your mind to hang on to every Bond you buy. You can, of course, cash in your Bonds any time after you've held them for 60 days. You get all your money back, and, after one year, all your money plus interest.

But when you cash in a Bond, you end its life before its full job is done. You don't give it its chance to help you and the country in the years that lie ahead.



You kill off its $4-for-every-$3 earning power.

All of which it's good to remember when you might be tempted to cash in some of your War Bonds. They are yours, to do what you want with.



But . . . it's ABC sense that.

They'll do the best job for you and for America if you let them reach the full flower of maturity!

Wendell Willkie's Tide

TOO much attention to detail has kept some observers from seeing the larger reasons why Wendell Willkie's political prestige dwindled to the proportions revealed in Wisconsin last Tuesday.

There is only wishful reason to believe the handful of Wisconsin citizens who went to the polls were making up their minds on specific issues; the circumstances do not bear out any of the positive deductions drawn from the way they voted. What the circumstances do bear out is the fact they voted apathetically; that Mr. Willkie, who had spent much money and energy to rouse them, had failed. They were not for him—they were not strongly for anybody.

In 1940, if Mr. Willkie had entered the Wisconsin primary, it would have been different. The "tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune" was flowing in his favor in 1940. If the imminence of war had not strengthened Mr. Roosevelt's political appeal, Mr. Willkie's tide might have carried him into the White House. But when he fell short, the tide ebbed. In the mass psychology of politics, a defeat in the race for the highest office of all is conclusive, a condition the Republican party recognizes in the tradition that a losing nominee shall not be renominated. That is what happened to Mr. Willkie, rather than any showdown on his beliefs. Those trying to sharpen pet axes on the outcome of his attempt to return to his 1940 prestige will need a better grindstone than the cycle of political destiny.

Post-Duration Prospects

FOOD rationing and victory gardening, advises Walter F. Straub, food rationing director for OPA, will have to be continued when the European war is over. The people of Europe will have to be supplied until they can plant and harvest enough crops to feed themselves. Our troops in the Pacific, meanwhile, will have to be supplied, too.

In 1942, first year of agitation for victory gardening, many potential gardeners passed up the possibility; it would be a fad. In 1943, when it looked like a necessity, many took it up as a one-year proposition. In 1944, they know it is still a necessity, and it doesn't look as though the situation would be much different in 1945. If victory gardening continues until 1950, which it might do in view of the prospect of a long war with Japan and the difficulties of European rehabilitation, Americans will be further back toward the soil than even Henry Ford dared dream of coaxing them in a generation.

Blow 'er Up

FOR wartime diversion from the problem of sustaining transportation on an A card, nothing recently has offered more possibilities than Dr. Custav Egloff's talk to American Chemical society on the possibilities of methane.

Dr. Egloff, who is one of the world's great authorities on fuels for internal combustion engines and has the patents to prove it, must be taken seriously when he says methane, obtainable as a byproduct of coal processing and also from natural gas, oil and sewer gas, is a readily available substitute for gasoline, if and when the United States needs a substitute. He explains that it would be used for ordinary passenger cars by means of a small pressure tank, instead of the bulky contraptions commonly employed abroad, where gasoline substitutes are already familiar to auto users. In Sweden, for instance, gas is generated from charcoal to operate buses and trucks.

We have confidence in Dr. Egloff. If he says it can be done, he can be trusted to figure out the easiest way. But frankly, what fascinates us isn't the idea of a substitute, but the thought of gliding into a filling station and commanding a swarm of eager attendants to "blow 'er up." Next to repeating those once familiar words, "fill 'er up," that would be best.

Maury Maverick's Confusion

MAURY MAVERICK, the former congressman and former mayor of San Antonio who now is head of Smaller War Plants Corp, is mixing up cause and effect in his order to the corporation's employes forbidding them to use the new language of bureaucracy.

He calls it "gobbledygook" language and says it is hard to understand. He refers, of course, to such flossy words as "activate" for "getting things going"; "finalizing" for "winding up"; "implement" for "giving the green light" and so on. It is, in fact, a new language, but contrary to Mr. Maverick's prejudice it is easy to understand. It is an effect, not a cause, of the complicated affairs of bureaucracy with which it deals.

What is hard to understand, in other words, is not the language but the things the language describes. Take, for example, the word "overall," which refers to the general aspect of things, as in this sentence: "The overall effect of the policy is good." That is the bureaucratic way for saying that in spite of all the darned fool mistakes that were made and the half-baked theories that got knocked to pieces in the hurly-burly of trying to accomplish something that was wide open to doubt in the first place there were some good results from the attempt. Mr. Maverick must concede that "overall" adds nothing to the confusion in this case and, meanwhile, saves a lot of words.

News Behind the News

"Painless Learning" Clique Believed Losing Its Grip on Education Methods.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 10 — The strangehold of the "painless learning" clique over American schools is breaking fast.

The movement for re-establishment of discipline in scholarship and conduct is beginning to succeed. It is being taken up and pushed by foremost educators and teachers who no longer are afraid of their lives; by school boards looking into conditions in their localities, and by Parent-Teacher and other civic groups asking for restoration of scholastic common sense.

Face of the new trend is reflected in the pronouncement of President Robert Sproul of California university. He said in an address (San Francisco, March 23) the progressive education craze already has run its course, after bringing "the devastation of rampant adolescents," and our "race" to the brink of catastrophe.

Blames Harvard Head

He blamed the educational publicist, President Eliot, of Harvard, for starting the free elective system (students to choose their own subjects) from which "primary and secondary education transferred control of the school in large part from the teachers to the pupils."

For his part, Dr. Sproul announced California has abandoned the elective system in principle and predicted "the disciplined mind, which is the major objective of education, will be sought less and less through undisciplined curriculums." His unchallengeable conclusion:

"There is no royal road to learning."

Atlanta Teachers' Views

But the incident which makes my heart rise in proudest admiration is the banding together of 26 teachers of the Atlanta Boys High school. They have dared sign their names in an open pronouncement to me, writing:

"We have long known the fact stated in your articles, that thousands of teachers are in complete accord with you, but afraid to give their names. We want to take this opportunity to indorse your wise and courageous stand against one of the greatest evils in our country. We are of the opinion that progressive education is neither progressive nor educational."

There is some of the courage of the signers of the Declaration of Independence in their document, to stir the blood and warm the soul. Looking at the Declaration of Independence, you find no facial evidence today of what it might have meant to those who stood up to be identified.

Evidence of Courage

But that kind of courage is as deep in the flesh of America as any of the independence principles extolled. Others are exhibiting like new courage in their own ways.

"The faculty of the Atlanta Boys High school," they wrote, "has followed your series of articles against progressive education with great joy and satisfaction. We have long waited for some writer of national importance to take up the cudgel against the dangers of progressive education.

"This school has tried to hold steadfastly to the fundamental truth that nothing can ever be substituted for the foundation of a building. Likewise, in education, you cannot substitute anything for discipline in the developing of character; and work and achievement cannot be supplanted if a child is to grow into a good citizen.

See Moral Rotting

"We have watched with a mingled feeling of rage and sadness, as the impotent philosophy of so-called modern education has rotted the moral fibre of our nation."

Then mark well this:

"We have listened with wonder and disgust at compulsory assemblies, as wordy, bombastic orators spouted out the theory of the 'freedom of youth.' We have heard them advocate the development of a youth uninhibited, unworked, and completely disrespectful of all American ideals.

"We must confess we have weakened somewhat from pressure above, and because of the progressive environment which has been all around us. We have clung to our ideals, however, taking the good and leaving the bad out of the progressive movement."

America is doing the same. Put these words on your school bulletin boards, teachers, and take heart. The undisciplined educational movement already has broken on the rocks of inquisitive American common sense. I will have more proof tomorrow.

Author of the Week

By John Selby

Associated Press Book Reviewer

E. LOUISE MALLY

IN the winter of 1929-30 I was living in a villa just outside the village of Vence, in the Alpes-Maritimes between Nice and Grasse. On the other side of the village a very famous man lay dying. His death was affecting, and one of the most affecting things was that he was very poor; part of his support came from the sale of a badly printed and worse bound novel called "Lady Chatterley's Lover." It was banned, I think, in all English-speaking countries, published first at Florence, at once pirated all over the world. For sixty francs it was possible to buy an authorized cheap edition published with an introduction by Lawrence at Paris, and that I bought.

For quite a while it seemed to me a useful book, but its usefulness thinned a bit with the years, or perhaps this came about when the shock of the four-letter words was forgotten. It now seems to me that the famous gamekeeper, Lady Chatterley, and Lady Chatterley's husband were merely carpenter's horses to support an obsession of Lawrence's, which was that it was his mission to argue the public out of making sex a dirty thing. The public was probably less snickerful than Lawrence thought, and Lawrence's fictional tract was probably less effective.

Now one of our energetic publishers has dug out the first draft of the book, and is publishing it in America as "The First Lady Chatterley." Frieda Lawrence has written an introduction. The publishers declare vehemently that this is a better novel than the third version, which is the one readers already know. They are right, too, but "The First Lady Chatterley" is still not the equal of Lawrence's best work—to-wit, "Sons and Lovers." It is too talky, and although the characters are really characters, they still take themselves with that uncompromising, humorless seriousness that afflicted Lawrence, particularly in the last half of his working life.

And the class struggle, which is a large share of the book, is self-consciously managed. It is intelligently managed, for all that, and the author's sincerity is unquestionable.

Those Yankees!

Attacks by American bombers on the German city of Hannover stir faint echoes of the American Revolution. The colonists of 1776 took up arms against the King of Hannover, better known as the alien German King George III of England.

With the coming of railroads, Hannover became a manufacturing and trading center, developing factories that has made it a frequent bombing target, says a National Geographic Society bulletin. The city is on the central German canal extending 330 miles from near Berlin to Duisburg on the Rhine. Its large airport was on the route from London to Berlin.

Contributing to Hannover's industrial growth were nearby mineral deposits, including iron, coal, potash salts, building stone—18 miles to the northeast.

Sophia, mother of George I of England, was electress of Hannover and great granddaughter of Mary Queen of Scots. She missed becoming queen of England by less than two months, dying shortly before Queen Anne. Parliament had designated her to be Anne's successor.

"No. 1 Boy" to Tex

By The Associated Press

AT A SOUTHWEST PACIFIC BASE—Lt. Everette E. "Tex" Frazier, 38, of Jacksonville, Tex., chief engineering scout for the Fifth Air Force Service Command, has almost legendary stature among natives as a modern Daniel Boone, commando, craftsman and super-diplomat.

He has been recommended for the Legion of Merit for his exploits in establishing jungle air strips in New Guinea and New Caledonia. Maj. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, deputy Fifth AAF commander, reported: "The speed of the Australian infantry advance from Nadzab to Dumpa in New Guinea was directly dependent upon the especially meritorious service of Lt. Frazier."

When a Flying Fortress with the four-star insignia of a full general landed on a New Guinea airbase, awed natives gave Gen. MacArthur their ultimate tribute. "Him must be Number One boy," they said, "to Massa Tex."

Best Seller in the Pacific

By Jack Stinnett

Associated Press Writer

Out of this war is coming what may be one of the most valuable assets in future dealings of the United States with foreign nations—a knowledge of the people who inhabit them.

A little 125-page pocket booklet, issued by the semi-official Infantry Journal entitled "The Jap Soldier" is an important item to anyone who wants to understand what we are up against in the Pacific.

One section describes the Jap officers so their rank will be recognizable. The last line is "If he has an all-gold metallic cloth collar patch with gold braid borders, and yellow stars on the center line, you have hit the jackpot. You have captured a general."

That's the kind of talk the boys aren't likely to forget. Nor is the paragraph that sums up the Jap soldiers: "Tens of thousands of men like this have been killed by American, Chinese and British soldiers. We cut them down like wheat in Buna, Guadalcanal, the Aleutians. We outfought them and beat them on land, sea and in the air. But anybody who thinks the Japanese soldier is a pushover is a fool."

The Jap soldier is treacherous, because he's sly. Although he's subject to the same fears as any other animal, he will, if necessary take his own life rather than lose face in battle. At last official report there were only 113 Jap prisoners of war quartered in this country, in spite of the fact that we have been at war with them for more than two years.

Although generally small in stature, he's tough as a boot, having been trained for warfare since he could crawl out of the cradle. He can go for days on "Rising Sun" meals, which consist of a cup of rice with a pickled plum in the middle (a dish that bears some resemblance to the Japanese flag from which is gets its name.)

If he has any genius in the field, it is for infiltration, camouflage and patience, and all three of these arts have been developed for the particular type of fighting that has to be done in the Pacific.

All these things and many more are in "The Jap Soldier." It's no literary gem but a lot of military realists are saying that they wish it could be circulated to all the folks who are beginning to think the battle of the Pacific may be a sideshow to Europe.

Speeds Tomatoes

By The Associated Press

MADISON, Wis.—Give the hothouse tomato plant a shot in the blossom and it produces earlier and more often. In the University of Wisconsin greenhouses, R. H. Roberts and Esther Struckmeyer experimented with various chemicals and found betanaphthoxy acetic acid when sprayed on the clusters of tomato blossoms made them bear fruit faster.

Called BNA, this acid is available in commercial quantities for greenhouse operators, who now can plant earlier, obtain larger yields and get the crop in before field-grown tomatoes begin flooding the market. One spraying, they say, is sufficient.

Last Pony Express

By The Associated Press

SOMBRERO BUTTE, Ariz.—Arizona's last "pony express" mail service—between here and Copper Creek—has been supplanted by a motor vehicle that crawls over a four-mile mountain road.

A burro used to be the "pony express" because it was difficult for a horse to negotiate the winding trail linking the mining camps.

We Try Hard

By Truman Twill

The patriots of this republic cannot sing Star Spangled Banner." They never could, unless evolution steps in to alter the hu voice, they never will. But they keep try There is music in their souls if they ever some way they can get it out.

Naturally, it embarrasses them to be flo by their own national anthem. This has brou about a curious collection of artful dod Are you one of the patriots who put on a d show when it is time to give out with " Banner," moving your lips, taking big brea but never making any sound louder tha squeak?

Then there are the ventriloquists, the pat with the trick voices which they use exclus on "The Banner." Not knowing one part another, they yet are capable of tackling soprano, alto, tenor, baritone and bass in succession, booming "by the twilight's gleaming" in the proper Metropolitan ma and switching to a girlish treble for the "r ets' red glare." They contribute nothing to Star Spangled Banner," but they can't be for trying, darn it.

They contribute less than their brothers sisters who, driven by patriotic duty, sing whole thing on the same note. These are Voice of the People. These are the earnest s who, knowing all the words and none of music, repeat the words year in and year doing the best they can and hoping some else will take the high notes and the low while they work on the average.

Ohio Bombardier On Easter Sunday Raid

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 10 — Lt. Ernest J. Delia, of Canton, O., was a bombardier in the great Easter-day assault fleet which undertook one of the deepest European penetrations of the war.

Crewmen who returned from the raids over East Prussia, Poznan, Poland, Tutow in Pomerania and Warnemuende on the Baltic, said some of the strongest opposition was encountered over Tutow's Focke-Wulf plant.

Lt. Delia, back from the Tutow attack, declared, "our bombs spun down in a beautiful pattern which smothered the runway and a group of buildings, and the whole area was enveloped in flames."

MARION IS REPRESENTED IN ERIE R. R. MAGAZINE

Several from City Pictured in April Issue

Several Marion residents and former residents are mentioned in the April issue of the Erie Railroad magazine, which is published monthly for employes of Erie.

Pictures of Master Sgt. Donald Jones, former carman helper apprentice, now stationed in England, and C. H. Lindsay, Erie car repairer, with his son Lt. Robert D. Lindsay, are shown on the pages called "Here and There Along the Line"

One item of interest to Marion readers is an account of a Christmas dinner eaten by four former Erie employes now in the Persian Gulf Service Command in Iran. A picture of the men, including Staff Sgt. A. I. Hinklin of Marion accompanies the item.

Mrs Betty Heisel who replaced her soldier husband as a teletype operator in the Marion yards is pictured in the magazine. Among the other Marionites mentioned were J. J. Daze and Ivan McGinnis Mr. Daze, former Galion engineer was a resident of Marion following his retirement in 1921. He died in January of this year. Mr McGinnis, machinist at Erie's roundhouse, is the father of Staff Sgt. Marion McGinnis who died in action in the European theater. Two other sons, John and Warren are also in the service

The animals were acquainted with mirrors.

Softball Board Maps Plans for Opening of New Season

Appointment of three committees to make necessary pre-season arrangements for the 1944 campaign and issuance of entry blanks to all prospective Marion county teams are the principal steps taken recently by the Marion softball commission under its newly-elected president, T. H. McKenney, district softball commissioner.

The three committees are the one on grounds, composed of Lowell Cook, Elmer Smith and Guy Stoner; rules, composed of Harry Williams and Ray Donaugh; and purchasing, made up of Ray Donaugh, Elmer Smith, Marion Mewhorter.

The main duties of those committees will be:

Rules—To consider any changes in the local softball code of playing rules. All changes will be made before the season gets under way in May.

Grounds—To make a survey of the three city park diamonds and determine the extent of repairs needed. This survey will be made this week. The committee also will have to decide what agency will supply the labor and material for making the repairs.

Purchasing—To procure balls, bats, bases, and other equipment needed for the coming season.

Others To Be Named

Several other committees will be appointed at the next commission meeting at the Y. M. C. A., May 4. Most important of these will be scheduling committee, which will map out the entire season's schedule for all leagues. Regular commission meetings for 1944 will be held at the Y the first Monday of each month.

At a commission meeting last Thursday, President McKenney appointed Marion Mewhorter, Y. M. C. A. program director and commission secretary, to send out entry blanks to all prospective league teams. This summer any team in Marion county will be eligible to participate in city-sponsored circuits. Team entry deadline has been set for May 1. Entry fee is $5, the same as last season.

At the Thursday meeting, the first since the annual softball banquet at the Y March 30, the commission discussed holding a joint meeting with team managers sometime before the season opens. In this way, it was pointed out, commissioners could better understand the managers' and players' difficulties and problems and pattern the commission's policies and decisions accordingly.

To Outline Eligibility

Commission members decided not to lay down any decisions in regard to player eligibility and the like at Thursday's meeting because of the general uncertainty of the local softball situation. Secretary Mewhorter said, "The commission has to get an idea of how many teams are interested in the leagues. In May we can get together with a better idea of the number of diamonds needed each night, the schedules, etc."

Ace Adams Likely To Graduate from Giants' Bull Pen

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—It looks like Ace Adams has seen the last of a bullpen.

The star of the 1943 giant relief pitching staff, who appeared in a record number of 70 games last year, has been promised a starting role by Manager Mel Ott.

To this end the Giants over the week-end purchased veteran 40-year-old Lou Polli from their Jersey City International league farm. Polli is expected to replace Adams as the ace of the bullpen.

Adams watched from the bench yesterday as the Giants plastered an 8 to 3 defeat on the Yankees at Atlantic City, N. J. Phil Weintraub, first sacker of the Giants, starred with a single double and triple.

Another noteworthy feature of the week-end happened at Brooklyn where Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers broke his right thumb in two places. He was trying to spear a wild throw barehanded.

The accident happened in an exhibition game against Boston Red Sox. The Dodgers won out in the twelfth inning when Clancy Myers walked, moved up on an infield out and scored on Luis Olmo's single.

Other major league news:

Washington Senators—Great relief pitching by Dutch Leonard gave Senators 2-1 win over Phils. Leonard came on the scene in the ninth when the Phils loaded the sacks with none out.

45,796 Bet $2,601,836 at Jamaica Opening

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—The racing gentry, still a bit awed by the fact 45,796 of 'em wagered $2,601,836 on Jamaica's opening seven-race program Saturday, had something new to chatter about today.

Bobby Permane is coming to town.

The blond kid from Camden, N. J., ex-vaudeville performer and radio crooner, rode 50 winners in 30 days at Florida's Tropical park, bringing in five winners each of the last three days for a record.

Permane is booked for four mounts today at Jamaica, and the chances are they'll bet him off the boards for he's the hottest thing in turfdom at the moment. The youngster will be up on Miss Puritan in the first, Head Smart in the fourth, Leaving in the sixth, and Blockador in the seventh. He gets his apprentice weight allowance in each.

Columbus Bowlers Shake Up Standings

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 10—Columbus contestants gave the class A standings of the 41st annual Ohio state bowling tourney a severe shaking up over the week-end, copping three top spots.

Fred Kautz moved out front in the singles with 643 on games of 237, 192 and 214. Harvey Russ and Joe Coffman hit for 1,198 and the doubles leadership and Coffman captured first in the all-events standings on a 1,835.

In class B, Ed Rust and Jack Reed of Hamilton took over first in the doubles, firing 1,201.

Marion Women Lead Class "B" Doubles

Pearl Snyder and Lillie Dalton of Marion climbed to first place in class "B" doubles in games of the State Women's bowling tournament played yesterday in Columbus. Contests next Sunday will decide final championship of the tourney which began early in February.

The top doubles score yesterday was 1,149. Lillie Dalton also holds second place in class "B" all-events with an individual score of 1,537. Jimmie Bull's Market team which bowled last week is still in fifth place among class "C" teams.

British Orphan Writes To Marion Residents

A friendship between a 12-year-old English girl and Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Wittibslager of 695 Wood street was begun recently when the Marion residents received a letter from Marjorie Mathews, an orphan child whom their son, Sgt. Lowell R. Wittibslager befriended on Christmas day, 1943. The little girl was one of 400 orphans entertained by Americans in the armed forces in England on the holiday. Sgt. Wittibslager has been stationed with the Army Air Force in England since last December.

Turk Reilly, Ex-Marion Catcher Says Ohio State Loop Team Will Do Well Here

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

Sports odds and ends here and elsewhere:

Emmett "Turk" Reilly, who is remembered as an aspiring young catcher with the Marion "Diggers," professional club, over 30 seasons back, appears to be "sold" on this city's prospects in the reactivated Ohio State league, which will launch a tentative 130-game season in May.

"Turk," who now works for the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. as a salesman of baseball and softball equipment, is said "to have the utmost confidence in Marion as a baseball city and has all along insisted that Marion would prove his claim as one of the best cities of its size for the national pastime."

And the now portly ex-backstop doesn't stop there. He ventures the prediction that "Marion will outdraw any other club that one would be willing to name for the 1944 season." Maybe so, but plenty of seats will have to be added at Lincoln park and facilities must be improved before Reilly's prediction is borne out. The team's promoters report that arrangements for these improvements are under way.

As for Grover Hartley, recently named general manager of the Marion club, Reilly doesn't "soft pedal" the superlatives. Hartley and "Turk" have been "life long pals." According to Reilly, Hartley "is one of the most astute men in baseball, without a peer in the development of young players with a wide experience in the business management of a club, having served in almost every capacity from a player with 17 years' experience in the majors all through the many ramifications of directing a club."

Marion old timers will recollect "Turk" playing his first game of organized ball in Marion in 1907. He was breaking in as a catcher with the Mansfield club in the old Ohio and Pennsylvania league. Opposing the Marion team on the mound was southpaw "Doc" Bailey. Pitching for Marion was Sanford Burke.

Among Reilly's teammates on the Marion team of the 1909 and 1910 campaigns were Ed Zmich, pitcher who with Reilly formed the famous battery of "Zmich and Reilly," Dick Staley, Red Farrell, Jimmy Lucas, Bull Williams, and Posey Hummel. Games were played at Webb field on Bellefontaine avenue.

President of the Marion team was Ossie Wollenweber. Warren G. Harding was connected with the club along with these men, among others: Tracy Allen, "Peck" Comer, Louie Goldberg, former Fire Chief McFarland, and Owen Sifritt, now fire chief.

Manager of Newark's Ohio State league entry is Clay Bryant, former Chicago Cubs pitcher. For a time, Bryant was under consideration for the managership of the Marion team. He was a 20-game winner one season for the Cubs and was forced to quit the game after his arm went bad.

Among the special bowling events on the Palace Recreation calendar for this month and next are the "800 club," and men's and women's headpin tournaments. The women's tourney is scheduled to start April 29 and end May 7. All Marion women bowlers who are recognized members of the Women's International Bowling Congress are eligible to take part. A contestant may bowl as many times as she wishes. Entry fee is $1 for three games. Highest possible score for one game is 120 pins. The tourney is sponsored by the city women's bowling association.

The men's headpin tourney is in the organization stage, no dates or information having been determined. Al Shull, Palace manager, said that local merchants probably would post the prize money. The men's event will be operated on the order of the annual Columbus headpin tournament, one of central Ohio's biggest bowling tourneys.

Shull also is considering bringing some of the country's name bowlers to Marion for special exhibitions, possibly in conjunction with the men's and women's headpin tournaments. Among these well-known keglers is Johnny Crimmins, Detroiter, a personal friend of Shull, and a frequent winner of national laurels. Crimmins recently told Shull that he would gladly stage an exhibition here if some top-flight bowlers were obtained to offer him some competition. He was here for the formal opening of the Palace lanes more than three years ago.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 10—That guy with the white coat and the loud voice won't be kidding this year when he hollers: "You can't tell the players without a score card." . . . In fact, the printer will have to work fast some days so that you can tell 'em with a score card. . . . So, just to help baseball fans become better acquainted with the numerous newcomers, this dept. will introduce them briefly from day to day. Here goes:

A Rookie a Day

Grey Clarke, White Sox third baseman—led American Association batters with .346 at Milwaukee last year; good team player and a steady player on hot corner. Called "Noisy" by the Brewers because he isn't. Chews a big cud of "eatin' tobacco" and his uniform usually looks like Pepper Martin's used to. The Sox' laundry bill is sure to go up.

Carl Lindquist, Braves pitcher—a 15-game winner for Hartford last season. Started campaign by blanking Springfield on opening day; topped it off Sept. 4 by getting married the same day he won game 15; the next day the fans chipped in $179.55 for a wedding present.

Freedom of Reach

Basketball's anti-goal tending rule must have been a severe blow to long Jim McIntyre, who scored 86 points in three games to pace Patrick Henry of Minneapolis to the Minnesota high school title. . . . At 16, Jim is six feet, 7½ inches tall and weighs 225 pounds. . . . With that human tower in the lineup, we assume Patrick Henry must have changed that famous line to read "Give him liberty or give the other team two points."

Reds Start Final Week in Training Camp

By The Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 10—The Cincinnati Reds began their final week's training today prior to the opening game of the season with the Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati April 18.

Yesterday the Cubs and Reds were slated to play an exhibition at Louisville, Ky., but the weatherman interfered causing a cancellation.

Saturday the Reds beat a lot of guys named Joe wearing Cub uniforms in Louisville to the tune of 10 to 3. High spot of that contest was the unveiling of Senor Tomas De La Cruz, a Cuban, who pitched the first six innings for the Reds and allowed but two bingles.

EXHIBITION LEADERS TAGGED TO LEAD IN SEASON'S PLAY

Cards and Reds, Tribe and Senators Make Best Early Showing.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—Tabbed by some as the teams with the best chances of winning the pennants, the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds of the National league, and the Washington Senators and Cleveland Indians of the American league, to date have dominated the red flannel or spring exhibition baseball circuit.

With the opening of the regular season only a week off, the National league champions and runner-ups are deadlocked for the lead, each having won three games without a reversal.

The Senators top the American league teams with four wins and one loss, with the Indians close behind, having won two of three.

Only one of the Cardinals' three victories was gained against major league opposition, that one against their city rivals, the Browns. Two of the Cincinnati victories were gained against the Indians and Chicago Cubs, while the Senators split a pair with the Philadelphia Phillies, their only big league competition.

The chilly league has produced one major surprise, however, with the New York Yankees riddled by service calls, the world champions still show the best record of any American league club against major league opposition despite a setback by their interborough rival, the Giants. Joe McCarthy's men have won four and lost three.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia athletics set a torrid early pace by winning their first six games, but made an about face and dropped their next four.

The National league holds an 11 to eight edge over its junior loop rivals. The edge was manufactured primarily by the Cardinals, Reds and Giants.

Boudreau Satisfied Indians Are Ready

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10—Although his Cleveland Indians have played only two exhibition games against major league clubs, Manager Lou Boudreau is satisfied with the condition of his Tribesmen and believes they will be ready for the reason's opening.

Only a week of the training period remains and the only games of the type that sharpen a club competitively have been single contests with the Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bad weather has prevented other action against big time opposition.

The Redskins broke camp at Lafayette, Ind., this morning and play the Pirates here today, tomorrow and Wednesday. Exhibitions are scheduled with the Cincinnati Reds at Richmond, Ind., Thursday, Dayton, O., Friday and in Cincinnati Saturday and Sunday. The club then entrains for Chicago to open the championship season April 18.

Novel Bowling Tourney Planned

Monday, April 17, will mark the opening of the "800 club," a novel bowling tournament to be conducted at the Palace Recreation Center over an eight-week stretch. It will wind up Monday, June 5.

About everything connected with the tourney, the first of its kind in local bowling history, contains the numeral "8." It will last eight weeks, will be rolled on eight of the 12 Palace lanes, and the entry fee is $8 per participant for the entire tourney, or $1 a week.

The "800 club" will replace the weekly sweepstakes of last summer as the "off season" competitive kegling event for Marionites. It will correspond to the sweepstakes in that four games will be rolled a night by each contestant. Tournament sessions will be held only on Monday nights.

Al Shull, Palace Recreation manager and tournament director, urges all Marion and vicinity bowlers who plan to take part in the tourney to file their entries by tonight, entry deadline.

A list of prizes totaling $120 is offered for high tournament scores. Weekly prizes total $4, with $4 being awarded for the highest four-game total each night, $3 for second high, and $2 for third. A total of $90 will be presented to bowlers who turn in the top four-game marks over the entire eight-week period. Prize in this division will be $40, second $15, and third, $12.50. Miscellaneous awards will be $10 for the greatest number of duplicate scores, $10 for the largest number of spares, and $10 for the most splits turned in.

BOWLING RESULTS

Dixon With Two Scores Above 200 and Series Total of 648 Tops Friday Night's Bowling Records.

The City league furnished the top scorer in Friday night bowling, E. Dixon, who put together games of 248, 225 and 175 for a 648 series at the Marion Recreation Center. In the Commercial loop at the Palace Recreation, Oberlander of National City Bank and Mitchell of the Coca-Cola five, tied for single game honors with 212's. Oberlander had high series, 578.

SCHOOL GROUPS HOLD SERVICE AT CHURCH

200 Attend Hi-Y, Girl Reserve Sunrise Program.

The annual Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Hi-Y and High School Girl Reserve groups in cooperation with the Y.M.C.A., usually held at the Harding Memorial, took place yesterday at 7:30 a. m. in Trinity Baptist church because of unfavorable weather. The program was in charge of Bill Williams, president of the Harding Hi-Y council, and Ann Wiedemann, president of the Harding Girl Reserves. Dr. Warren P. Behan, interim pastor of Trinity church, spoke. Approximately 200 persons attended.

Music included an opening trumpet duet by Bob Boyd and Lawrence Feaver, hymns led by Bruce Nystrom, and a special number by a group from the Harding High school a cappella choir including John McKenney, Bruce Nystrom, Paul Moler, Peggy Hale, Ann Thomas, Barbara Hedges and Patricia Bryans. Mrs. E. N. Hale presided at the piano. The call to worship was given by Bill Williams, "An Easter Morning Thought" by Ann Wiedemann, the Scripture lesson was led by John McKenney and prayer was offered by Robert Saxton, president of the Edison Junior High school Hi-Y. The Affirmation of Faith was led by Peggy Hale and benediction was by Grace Cyders, president of the Edison Girl Reserves.

"Never has Easter had so much meaning as now, when the world is in turmoil," Dr. Behan declareld. "Young men and women are facing death as a realit in the near future and are thinking more of immortality." He used as an example of immortality in the natural world the death of flowers in the autumn and "resurrection" in the spring, but emphasized that the immortality of man as illustrated in the experience of Christ is many times more significant and glorious. "All knew Christ was dead, his friends mourned. And then He arose. They were as sure of His resurrection as they had been of His death and that assurance freed them from the fear of death. We cannot be free from death unless we accept Christ in our hearts," he said.

TWO SENATORS ARE WITNESSES

Members of Truman Committee Testify at Wright Plant Court-Martial.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 10—The prosecution in a courtmartial called two United States senators today to support its charge that three AAF officers testified falsely to the Truman committee concerning asserted inspection malpractices at the Wright Aeronautical Corp. plant in Lockland, O., between March 30, 1942, and March 30, 1943.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) and Sen. Harley Kilgore (D-WVa) confirmed readings from transcripts of secret Truman committee hearings at Washington March 30, 1943, and in Cincinnati April 1-2-3.

At Washington, the senators explained, the officers' statements were taken as from soldiers already under oath while here they were sworn.

The transcript of Cincinnati proceedings quoted Lt. Frank C. Greulich, chief inspection officer of the material command as saying he did not know Millard T. Clark, supervisor inspector for the materiel command central procurement district had been ordered not to enter any Wright plant after submitting a report on complaints of Army inspectors in the Lockland airplane engine factory.

Clark testified last week that he had received such an order from Maj. Gen. Walter A. Ryan district inspection officer at Detroit after a meeting attended by Lt. Col. Greulich at Detroit.

Maj. Ryan was quoted as saying he did not tell Lt. Col. Greulich about his own investigation and conference with 54 Army inspectors about conditions at Lockland, which the government charges was false testimony.

Maj. William Bruckmann, resident officer at the plant and third of the accused, was quoted as declaring falsely that he knew nothing about airplane engines. He was described in the transcript as a graduate electrical engineer.

The two senators also testified directly today concerning what they saw on a three-hour inspection of the Lockland plant April 1, 1943. Both said they found no government inspectors on duty until late in their visit.

When they described assertedly defective parts, defense counsel and Col. Philip J. McCook, lawmember of the court, questioned them closely on their technical experience. Sen. Kilgore said he had acquired some machine tools in his youth and had learned much during a year of investigating war production.

Captain Edward Hawkens, a former project engineer at Wright Field, Dayton, O., testified that on April 16, 1943, 325 parts from Wright engines were rechecked and 29 of these were found "unsatisfactory for spare parts."

Of the 29, he said, 23 had been made by Wright and six by Wright sub-contractors. The remainder he described as satisfactory.

Paul D. McMahan an Army foundry inspector, testified that Charles W. Bond, chief Army inspector at Wright's Patterson, N. J., plant, had overruled him and Ray Clark, chief Army inspector here, on two gears which he described as defective and ordered them used. McMahan said that an attempt to scrap them was made anyway but they later disappeared from the scrap bin.

BRICKER

returned to the people when peace comes if business is to move on and if the spirit of private enterprise is to be sustained."

He also said "the great reserve of goods built up during the war must be fed back gradually so there will not be depression in the communities—so they will not compete with established business in the communities."

"We must keep our government free and strong. We must keep it in the hands of the people," he said during a press conference last night.

Bricker also assailed restriction of agricultural production, charging that "nobody can do the job (of controlling production) on overall basis."

He termed the agricultural adjustment agency "largely a political program" and said "whatever effort is put forth by the government in the field of agriculture, aside from research and market information, should be through state departments of agriculture and university extension departments."

Native of Bucyrus Is Veteran 37th Division Officer

(This is one in a series of sketches of members of the general staff of Ohio's 37th division.—Distributed by The Associated Press.)

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION IN BOUGAINVILLE—Lt. Col. Demas L. Sears, Toledo attorney, bears the distinction of having been a member of the general staff of the 37th division for more than 20 years.

This 50-year-old veteran of service on the Mexican border before and during World War I, has served as intelligence officer on the staff of Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, division commander, since 1939. He was awarded the purple heart after he suffered wounds from shell fragments in Bougainville.

Colonel Sears who was born in Bucyrus, O., son of the late Rufus V. and Mrs. Sears, enlisted in the Eighth Ohio infantry regiment in 1916 just after his graduation from Ohio State university with a law degree. He resigned a commission in the regular army as a captain with the first cavalry division to practice law with a firm which had been founded by his grandfather, Stephen R. Harris, later carried on by Colonel Sears' father.

In 1924 he went to Toledo to serve four years as assistant United States attorney in the northern district of Ohio, after which he joined the firm of Doyle, Lewis and Warner.

Initially Colonel Sears was assistant judge advocate general of the 37th staff and later became assistant plans and training officer before his assignment as intelligence officer.

He is married to the former Lura Belle Grigsby, graduate of the University of Missouri. They have a daughter.

A brother, Dr. Paul B. Sears, heads the Botany department of Oberlin College, O., and is nationally known for his books on that subject. Another brother, J. D. Sears, also a lawyer, is on duty with the army in the United States as a first lieutenant. Colonel Sears' mother, Mrs. Ora G. Grigsby, is making her home with her daughter-in-law in 1027 Potomac drive, Toledo.

GRAIN PRICES HOLD TO NARROW RANGE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 10 — Grains held within a narrow range in a quiet trade today, activity being restricted by the fact that a department of agriculture crop report was due after the market closed. There was some buying on rain in the corn and oats belt, further delaying planting, and fractional gains ruled for most of the session.

Demand for all cash grains, with the exception of rye, continued strong. Corn bookings amounted to 55,600 bushels. The board announced a sharp decline in the visible supply of corn last week, placing the total supply at 10,706,000 bushels compared with 35,707,000 bushels at this time last year.

Ohio Soldier Spends Easter in Holy Land

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 10—Soldiers who walked in the Holy Land yesterday were impressed by what they saw in the place where the story of the divine victory of the resurrection first was proclaimed. One of the men in uniform was Pfc. John P. Rand of Lynchsburg, O.
He and Sgt. Gottlieb Altergott of Chicago were quoted as saying in a dispatch from the Holy Land:
"Palestine was as beautiful and impressive as we thought it would be. We have seen all the sacred shrines and heard of the Easter bells and watched the crowds in the picturesque narrow streets. It was unforgettable."

Advertising Program Urged for U. S. Dairies

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 10—Vigorous expansion of advertising and research for daily products to meet a slump expected to follow cessation of war demands was advocated today by Owen M. Richards, manager of the American Dairy Association.
In an address prepared for delivery to the opening meeting of the association's annual sessions, Richard said the dairy industry could avert a slump.
"When wartime and lend-lease demands are ended," Richards contended, "the dairy farms face a price-demoralising apparent surplus of 10 to 15 billion pounds of milk annually unless more markets are opened for dairy products. The sorry alternative is to slash production in a return to the discredited economy of scarcity."
He asserted a system of advertising could help this.

BUYING LIFTS STOCK PRICES

Selective Issues Favored While Many Leaders Fail To Attract Attention.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 10—Selective buying demand gave favored stocks a modest lift in today's market but many leaders failed to attract bids.
An upswing at a relatively fast opening—blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares appeared—was short-lived and with volume dwindling appreciably, initial gains running to a point or so were reduced or cancelled in many cases near the fourth hour.
Helpful to individual issues were optimistic earnings statements, mild political hopefulness and pleasing Russian war news. Second-front nervousness still was a handicap, however, and many customers continued to keep a padlock on their cash to await more definite trend clues.
Ahead most of the time were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Western Union "A," Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Union Carbide, U. S. Gypsum & Texas Co. Sinclair oil hit a peak for 1944 but eventually returned to its starting point. Laggards included Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Westinghouse, International Telephone and Johns-Manville.

THREE MEN FACING BANK HOLDUP CHARGE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 10—Two men awaited arraignment in federal court here today on bank robbery charges, while a third was apprehended and transferred to Youngstown, O., federal bureau of investigation agents reported.
H. B. Fletcher, special agent in charge of the FBI Cleveland field office, said William E. Spencer and Elwood B. McClure admitted robbing the Akron branch of the Mount Vernon First Federal Savings & Loan association of $1,640 on Dec. 2, 1943.
The two also admitted participation in the Dec. 15 robbery of the Girard (O.) Federal Savings & Loan association, when three men escaped with $832, the FBI agent stated.
Spencer and McClure are under indictment by a Cleveland federal grand jury for the Akron robbery.
Marvin Lilly was arrested in Columbus last week and will be transferred to Youngstown to answer a complaint in federal court there charging him with participation in the Girard hold-up, Fletcher declared.
The FBI agent added all three also were wanted in Terre Haute, Ind., in connection with a Dec. 23 robbery of the Twelve Points Savings & Loan association, when $2,412 was taken.
Spencer and McClure escaped from the West Virginia state penitentiary Oct. 8, Fletcher reported, and were recaptured by Akron police in a running gun battle Jan. 10 and 11.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"THE VARYING' intonations of Shumway's voice," I repeated, "are the most important items I have to report to you."

Hugh Grantland shot a keen glance at me, then straightened his body to an erect position.

"Suppose you begin from the time you left here," he said, and give me a 'round by round' description of your adventures. Of course Katie-brought me your letter to Charlie Kent, a most lucid document, together with your verbal instructions, which incidentally she repeated faithfully, and with parrot like precision.

Eager for News

His lips twitched, and an involuntary smile came to mine as I visualized Katie "speaking her piece" before going to the Tigers "So," he went on swiftly, "the last mental picture of you is of your going down the road in Shumway's car. Please proceed from there."

Swiftly, and as concisely as possible, I told him of Shumway's hiding the wet floor robe, and replacing it with a dry one from the trunk, of his explanation of the dry seat cushion, of our being stopped by the coast guards, and of the numbers of similar officers on the road.

I also told of Shumway's successful parrying of the guards, of his driving me down to the edge of the beach, with many coast-guards patroling and digging, and his pointing out of the shack, from which he said my two guests had come with clothing dripping wet, and asked to be taken to my house.

Hugh interrupted me at that point.

"Did you anywhere hear of anybody knowing anything, or possessing any theory as to the reason for the intensive search by the coastguards?"

"Not a word," I told him

"Go on!" he said, and there was a tenseness in his voice which I had not noticed before.

Most Important

"There's isn't much more," I said, "but I think it is the most important of all." Then I related, word for word, the insinuations Shumway had made as to my knowledge of the dripping wanderers, of the perils of being an "accessory" after the fact, of his covert demand for money, of my ultimatum to him, and of his dash down the walk to his taxi, muttering that I might not have the chance to go away."

"Now I have brought you up to date," I told him, "and I must get on with the present. I must go after the boys at Mrs Tiver's--and Katie will have dinner in about an hour."

"Can you cut 10 minutes from your schedule, and listen to some questions? I find myself in a grave dilemma."

Madge Frightened

There was that in his voice which made my pulses quicken with something like terror But I stilled them forcibly, and spoke with the quick and hearty acquiescence which his request made imperative.

"Ten minutes, and more if you need them," I replied instantly.

"Thank you," he said. "Now here is my dilemma. First, it is necessary that I see your father as soon as possible. Yet I do not dare put a telephone through to him, or have you do so."

"I telephoned Lillian while I was at Easthampton," I said, "using a simple conversational code. She knows that I will take the first train tomorrow morning from Bridgehampton, that I will see her, Harry and my father, at luncheon, that means as soon as I get in, and that if I am compelled to stay for any reason, she will take the afternoon train out here, to carry on with the housekeeping and other 'chores' in my absence. All this, of course, subject to your approval, Hugh. I made it all tentative, and the arrangement may be changed at a second's notice."

He held up his hand with a swift protest.

Approves Plan

"It will not be changed at all by me, my dear," he said. "As usual, you have done the only possible thing. But that does not alter my dilemma."

He stopped, evidently marshalling his thoughts and words into ordered phrasing. When at last he spoke his accents were precise, clipped, emphatic.

"From your account, the coastguards nor anybody else save Shumway know anything except that some men come from that shack dripping wet and disappeared.

"But--" he paused impressively, "something most vital hinges on their not finding out that we are the men they are hunting. You have done everything in your power to keep them from finding out. But -- I must guard against every possible leak. What do you think Shumway will do?"

"I think he will keep still until he finds out there is no possible chance to get any information on which to blackmail us," I said.

"That is my opinion also," he said, "but we also have to face the fact that there is a possibility of the coast guards finding out we are here and coming to search the place. Have you any solution for that problem?"

I looked at him steadily for the fraction of a second.

"Yes," I said. "I have."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Milk and Honey

WHEN THE angel of the Lord appeared to Moses out of the burning bush, He promised that He would deliver the Israelites out of the hand of the Egyptians and bring them to "a land flowing with milk and honey: unto the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites and the Amorites."

This apparently sounded good to Moses and his tribe, but personally I can remember away back in Sunday school that I was very skeptical about milk and honey as a steady diet. At long last, the question has been submitted to modern scientific arbitrament. For reasons that are not too crystal clear to me, the Division Agricultural Bio-chemistry of the University of Minnesota has been investigating how a man would thrive on an exclusively milk and honey diet.

As I say, I do not know why this question came up as I have never heard of anyone since the Exodus proposing that men should live exclusively on milk and honey, but nutritionists have a poetic streak in them and it is worth while to examine the research, because it gives an insight into how modern nutritionists go about solving problems.

An exclusive milk diet for an adult is not adequate. One can get enough calories out of milk although it requires a good deal of bulk. In a Wisconsin experiment station several students lived on milk alone except for some orange juice and some added minerals for three months. They drank as much as they wanted, which was 3½ to 4½ quarts a day. They maintained their weight and in fact some of them gained and they all felt well and satisfied.

But milk besides the large amount required is inadequate in iron and in copper, manganese and iodine, all necessary for nutrition. The Vitamin C is inadequate in pasteurized milk: that is why orange juice is added to infant feeding. Another vitamin, nicotinic acid, is low, and it is low in Vitamin D. Vitamin B in milk is adequate if enough milk to maintain weight is taken.

The Minnesota investigators casting around for a single food substance that would supplement a milk ration fit on honey. Dark honey has four times as much calorie value as milk, five times as much iron, and has good quantities of Vitamin C, Vitamin B and nicotinic acid. Vitamin D is low, but adults need very little Vitamin D.

Milk and Honey Tests

Five healthy adults ranging in age from 22 to 41 years went on a diet consisting of one quart of milk and 100 grams of honey a day. Some iodine was added, this being in Minnesota which is an iodine poor state. The iodine was to protect against goiter and keep the thyroid gland satisfied.

Tests were made every so often of the blood of these subjects, and a thorough physical examination including a dental examination

The blood examinations determined whether the minerals necessary to life—calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, etc.,—were present in proper proportions. Also whether the vitamins—B, C and others—were present in the blood in the proper proportions. This is done in all carefully conducted researches, and should come as a surprise to those who just guess they need some vitamins or iron and call at the drug store for a package: such action is not a controlled nutritional study.

During the test period three of the subjects lost weight and two gained. The vitamins stayed pretty low in the blood, but no serious symptoms of deficiency occurred. In general it may be said that Moses had his hopes raised too high by the idea that milk and honey is an entirely adequate diet.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. B.:—I have a dog with follicular mange and the veterinary tells me to rub medicine on the sore. I wonder if a human being can catch it.

Answer: One of the nicest things about dogs is that they have different diseases from ours. Neither distemper or mange affects humans.

E. W. P.:—Is it true that one fruit contains more acid than another? Can you print a list of acid and non-acid foods and what effect they have on the body?

Answer: Most fruits contain considerable organic acids, citric acid being the most familiar. As eaten they are acid, but they turn to an alkaline reaction in the body due to oxidation and the formation of potassium bicarbonate. Tomatoes, oranges, pears, peaches, apricots and pineapple for this reason tend to diminish the acidity of the urine; cranberries, plums and prunes tend to increase it on account of the large amount of quinic acid they contain.
